November Services

All our services are for everyone so please join wherever you wish and all visitors are always welcome. We are one church family with several buildings and many villages. In addition to 'normal' worship services in our buildings everyone is invited to join the services that are streamed online from All Saints Kemble. To join these please go to the Thameshead website: www.thamesheadchurches.org.uk and select the LIVESTREAM button, from here you can join our worship live or share in recent services at any convenient time. We have a calendar on the website which will be kept up to date. If you would like help or assistance please message us at office@thamesheadchurches.org.uk and we will get in touch with you.

Advent Groups - Save the Dates!

During Advent, we will be holding groups throughout the Benefice following the Church of England's 'Advent from A-Z' materials. Everyone is welcome to join one of our three Advent groups: there will be in-person groups on Monday and Wednesday evenings and an online group on Thursdays. We hope to hold one session of our in-person groups in each parish so that those who may not wish to travel can experience a group in their village and those who are happy to travel, can then join which ever group/s they wish to.

Dates will be as follows:

Mondays, 30th November, 7th December and 14th December

Wednesdays, 2nd December, 9th December and 16th December

Thursdays, 3rd December, 10th December and 17th December

Further details to follow, but please email Toto Walls to register your interest : office@thamesheadchurches.org.uk

We remember, so we may live

Autumn is here: leaves are falling, days are shorter, and everything feels like it's winding down toward winter. For some this is a peaceful time; for others, the quiet and darker days can feel heavy. Yet through it all, our church calendar marks special days, held together by one clear theme: we remember, so we may live.

All Saints Day — 1 November
We often think of saints as distant figures in old stories, but All Saints Day reminds us that the spirit of faith is found in lives shaped by faith, kindness, and love. We have seen those same qualities in people who have walked — and still walk — here in our villages. They took on jobs and roles in our churches and communities, welcomed new faces, and quietly looked out for anyone who needed a hand. They had no statues or grand titles, but their mark on us and on the places where we live is deep and lasting. Those we have lost remain part of who we are.

Remembrance Sunday — 8 November
A week later, we gather at our war memorials — some standing together, some remembering from home, all united in respect. We honour those from our own villages who gave their lives so we might live in peace. They were sons, daughters, parents, and friends — ordinary people who made the ultimate sacrifice. We do not remember to glorify conflict; we remember to value the freedom and the everyday community life they secured for us. We hold dear the cost of the peace we enjoy, and we promise their giving was not in vain. We hold them in our hearts, and we strive to live in a way that honours what they gave.

Christ the King — 22 November
At the end of the church year, we celebrate Christ the King. This is not about crowns, power, or authority as the world sees it. Jesus' kingdom is built on something entirely different: the lonely are welcomed, the overlooked are valued, and love is the greatest power of all. The best way to honour the saints and the fallen is to build the kind of world they hoped for — right here: caring for one another, sharing what we have, and making sure every single person knows they belong. Whether you join us in church, stand at the memorial, or sit quietly at home, this welcome is for you.

Advent Sunday — 29 November
And before the month ends, a new beginning: Advent Sunday. After remembering and honouring, we turn toward hope — lighting the first candle, watching and waiting, ready to welcome the light that never fades. All that we have remembered leads us here: ready to start again, ready to walk forward together.
We remember, so we may live. We learn from those who went before; we treasure what they gave; and as one season ends and another begins, we walk forward — not alone, but together.

Kemble and Ewen Women's Institute

Lady She' alias Sheila Lloyd- Graham will be our guest speaker on Thursday 19th November in the Tavern Function room at 3pm, when she will bring along and talk about Bridal Gowns. Visitors are very most welcome. It will be the annual general meeting and the existing officers would like any nominations for the committee to come forward. Please discuss your readiness to come on board with any current officer, contact Pat the secretary via ayrescares50@gmail.com who can signpost you.

Royal British Legion women's section Kemble and district.

At the AGM of the RBL on November 12th in Kemble village hall, Pat the chair/ secretary of the women's section, which is now a County supported branch, will give her annual report to those present. The w/s branch has a vacancy for a Standard Bearer which drew interest last year but work commitments has prevented the lady taking it on for now, so Pat for this year hopes to carry it again at the Remembrance Service in Kemble, the honour she held for nearly 40years. Pat always said she would retire from the role at 80 but now past that, she definitely needs someone to step into her shoes permanently!

Training is available from County and locally, you have to be a women's section member if not, join up via headquarters to become one. A young female cadet would be ideal or someone who feels passionately (as I did/do) to represent the community to those who ' laid down their lives for us'.

Somerford Keynes Harvest Lunch

The Harvest Lunch in September which took place in the village hall was great fun and an enormous success. The village hall was full of happy people, with a wonderful atmosphere and delicious food. Profits from the lunch were £200, collection from the church service earlier was £130 so the combined total was the sum of £330, which has been given to the Cirencester Food Bank, together with generous donations of food stuffs.

Many thanks to everyone for their donations and their help, and to Helena for again organising such a fun event.

Village Lake Community Event

About 45 villagers attended a very happy gathering at the Village Lake in September with refreshments generously provided by the Parish Council.
It was a wonderful evening.

GDASS Sunday Service
22 November, 10.00

Yes, it's that time of year again! For thirty years of more, we've been donating toys, gifts and toiletries to Gloucestershire Domestic Abuse Support Service.

This year, the GDASS team still need our support – but because they've got new premises, they would be grateful if we could give things that don't need storage space. So it's back to what we did in lock-down – remember that? We all rallied round to give either cash or store vouchers – the sort you can get at Kam's.
This is what we're appealing for this year.

We'd love you to bring your gifts to the Giving Sunday on 22 November, when Steve will be leading a Communion service. If you prefer, put your cash anonymously in an envelope or use the donation device. If you can't get to the service, then Kam and the Kemble Stores team will have a collection box to hand.

Thank you in advance for what I'm sure will be your amazing generosity.
Judith

ROYAL BRITISH LEGION - KEMBLE AND DISTRICT BRANCH
DATES FOR YOUR DIARY – November 2026

Our talks and AGM are held in Kemble Village Hall.

Sunday 8th November - Branch Remembrance Day Service
Our Branch Remembrance Day Service will be incorporated within the All Saints' Church Kemble Annual Remembrance Day Service starting at 10:00hrs, followed by wreath-laying at the Kemble War Memorial. After this service there will be refreshments in Kemble Village Hall.
This event is for everybody – not just RBL members.

Thursday 12th November – AGM and Talk
Our Annual General Meeting will start at 7pm. Following the AGM, about 8pm, David Russell will give a talk titled:
'COAL - HOW THIS BLACK GOLD MADE A NATION AND AN EMPIRE'
"How the black gold called coal changed people's lives, local and national society and indeed influenced global economic development by the formation and the fuelling of what we know today as the British Empire".
Note that you are welcome to attend the talk even if you are not an RBL Member.

Friday 4th December – Christmas Meal – Thames Head Inn
This popular annual event has been arranged for the above date and members will be receiving more information about this event nearer the date. If you would like more information about joining our RBL Branch, please contact me for details or check out the British Legion website:

Gardening for nature
If you are tidying up your garden or green space ready for winter, remember that November is a critical month for wildlife as animals that winter here will be preparing for the colder months ahead. It's great to leave a few untidy areas to provide cosy spot for them to shelter in – piles of logs and fallen leaves, as well as seed heads as a food source. If you have a pond, it is important to maintain it through the winter for frogs and newts, as well as being a source of water for garden visitors.

Feeding birds through the winter
The RSPB recommends feeding garden birds a full range of foods, including seeds, peanuts, mealworms, fatballs or suet from November until the end of April. In order to prevent the spread of disease, they ask us to:
· Clean bird feeders and water baths at least once a week.
· Place bird feeders in a different spot every week.
· Avoid putting feeders under places where birds roost, such as under trees.
· Don't use bird feeders with flat surfaces, such as bird tables, window feeders and feeders with trays.
· Feed in moderation.
· Keep food as dry as possible.
· Help birds find their own food.
For fuller instructions, visit: https://www.rspb.org.uk/whats-happening/news/how-to-help-garden-birds

Other November nature actions
14 November - Litter picking: meet at the Tavern at 10.30 – all welcome. Also: Cirencester Repair Café open from 10.00 – 12.00 at the Baptist Church.
19 November – World toilet day: because everyone should have access to a safe toilet and clean water.
27 November – Buy Nothing Day: the antidote to Black Friday!
27 November – 5 December National Tree Week: the start of the annual tree planting season and celebration of our national treasures.

North Wiltshire Villages Flower Club

Autumn is a very busy time of year for the Flower Club. It began with our AGM in September which incorporated an excellent and very enthusiastic talk by Jennifer Susan from Halliesphere. We also launched our new programme for 2027 which includes several floral art demonstrations, workshops for all experience levels, talks, outings and our Emerald Anniversary celebration. More details can be found on our website. For October there was a last minute change of plan, so we held a workshop making Pave designs (dense, flat, shallow arrangements best viewed from above), which was a new skill for many.

Our main event of the year is an open meeting with Nick Grounds, a National Demonstrator at Malmesbury Town Hall, on Wednesday 18 th November at 7.30pm. Nick is also a professional horticultural auctioneer, known for his theatrical, humorous and engaging flower arranging events. All are welcome to what should be an excellent evening. Tickets are now on sale (£20 for members, £25 for visitors) and include delicious canapes and a glass of bubbly. For more information, or to purchase tickets, email nwvflowerclub@gmail.com, call 07817 242888, or visit our website northwiltshirevillagesflowerclub.co.uk

Then on Saturday 28 th November we are holding a Christmas Wreath Making Workshop at the Riverside Community Centre in Malmesbury from 2pm to 4.30pm. This will be open to anyone who would like to learn a new skill, especially non-members, for a cost of £40 including tea and mince pies. If you'd like more information or to book please check our website above or our Facebook page – North Wiltshire Villages Flower Club. Places are limited so book soon!

Our final event of 2026 will be a Christmas lunch at the Old Royal Ship at Luckington on December 16 th , providing an opportunity to relax and enjoy each others company.

Farming Matters

You may have thought that we had passed the worst period of drought risk, at least for this year. You'd need to think again! This week (Thurs 15th) the government announced that south-west and south-east England were moving into Level 3: Severe Drought, which entails non-essential water use bans. That is to say that water use restrictions expand from residential properties into the commercial and public sectors.

Commercial restrictions include banning water use for commercial car washes, stopping the filling of hotel or public swimming pools, and banning the watering of professional sports pitches. Under Section 57 of the Water Resources Act 1991, the Environment Agency has the power to abruptly reduce or completely stop water abstraction from rivers or boreholes for agricultural use. This is done to prioritize human health, public drinking water, and livestock welfare over crop irrigation.

Farmers who built on-site winter-storage reservoirs are forced to rely entirely on their own stocks. However, because they are barred from refilling these reservoirs from local watercourses during summer dry spells, these supplies deplete rapidly, halting irrigation for high-value horticulture like potatoes, onions, and soft fruits.

It's a bit worrying when South-east Water say one of their main reservoirs (Ardingley) is currently at 19% capacity and day zero (when it will have no usable water) is 10 December. A reservoir in South-West England - Wimbleball is at 16%. Unless we get significant rain, we won't see water in the Thames for a while. However, we have had enough rain recently to allow some successful autumn cultivations and get new crops of to a good start. Some crops are a bit patchy where soils are still a little dry but most look wonderful in the autumn sunshine and are well established for the coming winter.

In other news, many farmers are feeling hugely frustrated if not notably angry. Some background – As part of the EU agricultural policy, farmers received payments to subsidise the costs of producing food. These had many guises but in recent years were area payments based on the size of the farm. Prior to Brexit, the UK received approximately £3.5 billion annually through the Common Agricultural Policy.

Following the UK's departure from the EU, the government committed to maintaining total cash funding for farm support, gradually shifting away from EU-style area payments toward environmental land management schemes. The new Sustainable Farming Incentive scheme allows farmers to claim money in return for implementing beneficial environmental practices.

The 2026 version on this scheme had a reduced budget of £310m and consisted of two application opportunities, one June - Aug for small farms and those not previously in one of these schemes with a budget of £60m. 6700 applicants were successful in securing an average of £10,000 each for implementing environmental measures. The second application window opened on 22nd Sept for the remaining farmers to bid for a £253m fund (after a £20m top-up recognising the impacts of the hot, dry summer). The window closed in less than six hours after 12,200 applications mopped up the entire budget.

Popular measures include managing grassland with very low nutrient inputs, managing hedgerows for wildlife benefits, planting herbal seed mixtures to increase insect activity and improve soil health, planting fields with winter bird feed mixtures and farming without insecticides.

This over-subscription means that hundreds of farmers who have previously benefitted from the scheme and delivered environmental goods are left without funding and are faced with destroying the good practices already recognised under previous schemes, removing established habitats in favour of commercial cropping. Farming needs to generate an income and if environmental initiatives are not funded, alternative, commercial enterprises must take their place.

The 2024/25 scheme budget was £1.05m and saw 37,000 agreements with farm businesses. So much for the commitment to maintain the EU level of agricultural funding! Whether you agree or not with using public money to fund environmental schemes and wildlife habitats, farmers need consistent messages to engage with confidence in government initiatives and plan their businesses.

But remember, remember, Guy Fawkes didn't agree with government policies, and look what happened to him!

Gloucestershire Nightstop: The Local Charity Keeping Young People Out of Homelessness

Imagine being 18, just finishing your A-Levels, excited about university—and suddenly having nowhere to sleep.

That was the reality for Mary (name changed), a bright young woman from Gloucestershire who found herself kicked out of home at one of the most important points in her life. With no other options, she began sofa-surfing with friends, unsure of what would come next.

Then she found Gloucestershire Nightstop.

Nightstop is a local charity that provides emergency accommodation for young people aged 16–25 who are homeless or at risk of homelessness. Instead of hostels or shelters, young people are offered a bed for the night in the spare room of a trained volunteer host. These hosts provide more than just a place to sleep—they offer warmth, a hot meal, and a sense of safety. Volunteer drivers also help transport young people to and from placements.

Mary was matched with a host within days. She stayed in friendly, welcoming homes, took part in creative and supportive activities through Daystop, and was even picked up from work by kind hosts. With Nightstop's support, she contacted her university and secured long-term accommodation. Today, she's thriving.

Another young person shared, "... From the support workers who greet you at the door, to the volunteers who drive you, to the kind and considerate hosts. Nightstop truly is full of amazing people and I'll never be able to express my gratitude enough..."

Right now, Nightstop urgently needs more hosts and drivers to continue offering this lifeline.

You don't need a big house or lots of time—just a spare room and a warm heart. Hosts choose when they're available, and Nightstop provides full training, 24/7 on-call support, and covers all expenses.
Whether you can offer one night a month or just help spread the word, your support could be the reason a young person feels seen, safe, and supported instead of alone.
